

On occasion of the retirement of Prof. dr. Jozef Brams, the De Wulf–Mansion Centre, the Aristoteles Latinus and the Center for Medieval and Renaissance Natural Philosophy (Nijmegen) organized an international workshop

Around the Aristoteles Latinus. Recent studies on the reception of the physical works in the Middle Ages

During this meeting the following papers were presented:

1. Gudrun Vuillemin-Diem (Thomas-Institut, Köln), Zum Aristoteles Latinus bei David von Dinant
2. Pieter Beullens (K.U.Leuven), Four Translators and a Zoo: Interpretative Recycling From Middle Ages to Renaissance
3. Fernand Bossier (U.A. - K.U.Leuven), La tradition du De celo
4. Michael Dunne (National University of Ireland, Maynooth), 13th and 14th Century Commentaries on the De longitudine et brevitae vitae
5. Jacqueline Hamesse (U.C.L.), Les instruments de travail philosophiques médiévaux, témoins de la réception d'Aristote
6. Hans Thijssen (K.U.Nijmegen), Edward Tyson (1650-1708): Defender of Aristotle's Historia Animalium
7. Charles Burnett (The Warburg Institute, London), Stylistic Analysis of Arabic-Latin Translations
8. Aafke van Oppenraay (Constantijn Huygens Instituut, Den Haag), The reception of Aristotle's History of Animals in the marginalia of some Latin manuscripts
9. Silvia Donati (Thomas-Institut, Universität zu Köln), Matter and intelligibility in the 13th century commentary tradition of the Physics
10. Cecilia Trifogli (All Souls College, Oxford), Thomas Wylton against minimal times
11. Griet Galle (F.W.O.-K.U.Leuven), The scholastic discussion on whether local motion causes heat
12. Pieter De Leemans (F.W.O.-K.U.Leuven), The scholastic discussion on whether the intellect moves animals.